Did You Know?

Soil is an antidepressant

The smell of mycobacterium vacii, a microorganism found in soil, compost and leaf mold, lights up neurotransmitters that release serotonin (a mood-lifting hormone)

HOMESCAPE NOW

HOMESCAPENOW
URBAN LANDSCAPING

Landscape Design, Garden Maintenance, and more!

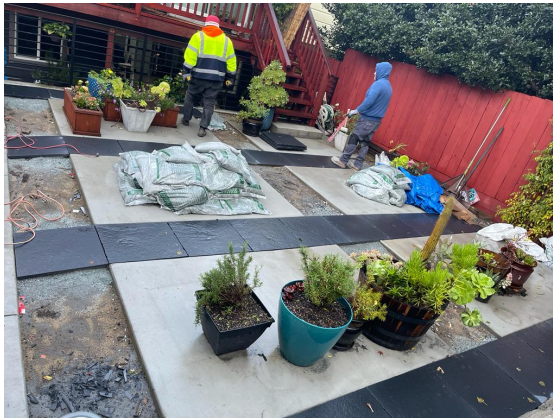

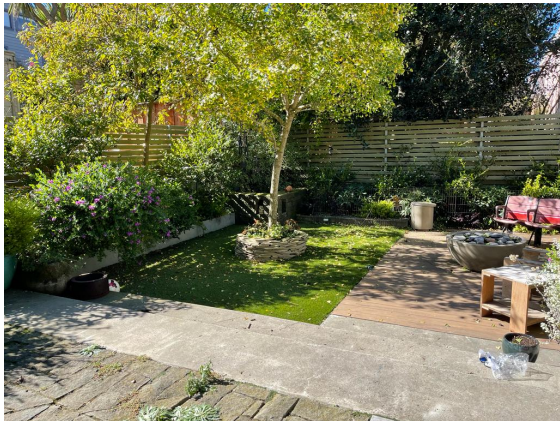

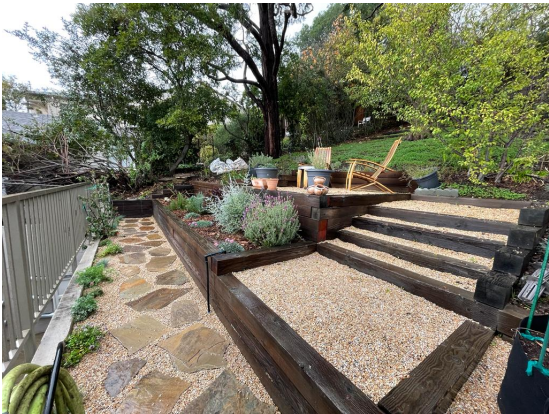

Looking forward to a great spring season! We've completed some wonderful landscape design projects recently. Homescape Now is ready to help you create a living space of your dreams!

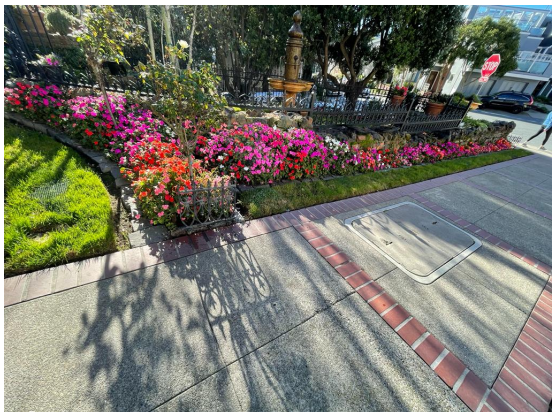

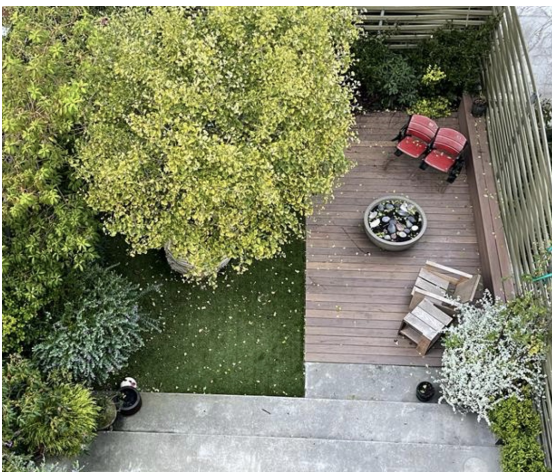

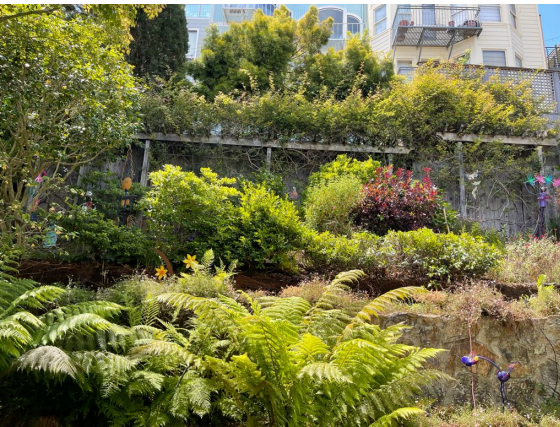

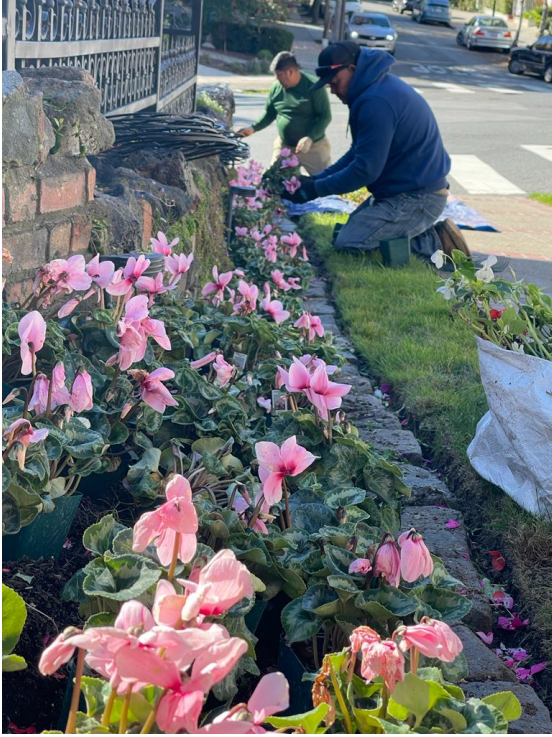

Make an appointment with Eric at 415-730-4419 or via email, and he'll walk you through the process and get you started!

Spring is in the air and here are a few tips Homescape Now would like to share when getting your yard warm-weather ready!

- Clean up leaves and debris in garden beds and lawn areas
- Weed, and cut back perennials as necessary in garden beds
- Apply appropriate organic fertilizer and pre-emergent weed control to garden beds
- Add a fresh layer of organically dyed hardwood mulch to garden beds
- Check and straighten landscape lighting and replace bulbs as needed
- Start and check your irrigation system
- Pressure wash patios, or other hardscapes
- Install new poly-sand in joints of paved surfaces
- Empty seasonal containers so they are ready to plant
- Haul away and dispose of debris
