After the Storm

Trees are a great source of value and beauty in any landscape. Unfortunately, they can also be vulnerable to outside forces such as windstorms and other extreme weather events, similar to what San Francisco and the surrounding areas recently experienced.

To protect your trees from damage, it is important to take steps to ensure their long-term health. This includes regular maintenance and inspection for potential hazards such as disease or pest infestations, as well as proper pruning and fertilization. Additionally, seek the advice of an arborist if you have any questions or concerns about the health and stability of your trees. Thoroughly caring for your trees will not only protect your investment, but ensure that they remain a beautiful and valuable part of your landscape for years to come.

Do you have remaining storm damage or any potential safety hazards? Call Arborist Now and one of our professional and knowledgeable estimators will assist in giving the peace of mind you need.

We understand that there may be some memories with these fallen trees. This is where Arbor Upcycle comes in. We can custom mill for those who may wish to keep a piece of nostalgia. Our team will walk you through the process. You may have to bid farewell to a beloved tree, but you can always salvage some of it.
